A Day in the Life . . .

"If we have learned nothing, we have experienced the passage of time."
"Both the instant and the eon have been our domain as we have passed the days, the weeks, and years of our lives."
"It has only been an instant in the face of history, and yes, it seems only yesterday that we came to this place which seemed so vast."
"Often we felt that there was too little time to learn even what was required of us."
"There was so much to experience; so many people to meet."
"Those we did come into contact with taught us a lot."
"Not the least of our lessons was that learning is not a phenomenon of the classrooms; we learned outside as well as within."
“Though the pressures of time were great, we made it through. We learned to cope ...”
“In contrast to the pressure, we discovered an inner reserve of patience we had not realized we possessed. It lead to discipline.”
“We had to work when we would have preferred to relax. But we still found time for friends, for fun, — for the small things that mean the most.
"Yes, we have experienced time. It has guided us in the course of our enrollment at W.S.C."
"We have grown so much in our wisdom, ability to make new friends, and most of all to experience the world around us."
"The years have flown by... all these moments have their place imbedded forever in our memories. No longer will it be a typical day in the life of a Westfield State student yet never will they be forgotten..."

Wordsworth
The Times They Are A'Changing . . .

Reflections of 1980-81
Hostages
Remembered

To the College Community:

As we all know, this week marks not only the end of our Presidential Campaigns and the end of the foliage season, but it also marks a beginning; a beginning of the second year of captivity for fifty-two fellow Americans located somewhere in Iran. As I sit back and contemplate it all, I feel that we as a college community should show our support for our people more than we have. What have we done? When it was in style, we had a demonstration and an effigy burning. The Embassy takeover was front page news for months; however, like most drawn-out events the coverage subsides when people begin to take it as commonplace and it doesn't hold their interest. The point that I am trying to get across is that we, not just as students but as Americans, should not put this situation so far from our minds that it doesn't bother us. The fact of the matter is the fate of these Americans is still as unsure today as it was a year ago. And for these Americans, the only thing that has changed are the days dragging into nights.

WESTFIELD FALLS
(To the tune of Camp Granada)
by Debi Johnson

Hello Mudder, I am frowning,
Here I am at Westfield, drowning.
This is worse than basic training
But it might improve if ever it stops raining.

I went swimming in a driveway,
Water-skiing on the highway.
The campus pool is most surprising
The other day the water level started rising

A guy from Davis at a party
Drank too much and got foolhearty
Dressed for swimming, in his glory,
He practiced platform diving from the second-story

Get me out, oh Mudder, help me,
Get me out, please don't desert me,

Don't leave me
Out here in Westfield Park,
I might get eaten by a shark.

Take me home, I'll keep my stereo turned down
My friends and I won't make a sound
And I won't be a slob
I swear I'll get a job.

If you've ever loved your daughter you'll come save me from all this water
For two weeks now, it's been raining
Watching waterfalls is not so entertaining

The roof is leaking, it's no wonder
That my room is three feet under
Mom I've never loved you better
Please come get me when you've read this soggy letter.

A Member of The Owl Staff Attends ED 358

by Diane Casey

This class includes calling the professor "Dr. Bob" and calling fellow students "beautiful friends." reading letters aloud, holding hands, hugging, and taking walks around the campus. There are no tests; grades are based on letters to "Dr. Bob," who wants his students to do what they want to do, when they want to do it. These letters to "Dr. Bob" are the only assignments required of students. This class is Dr. Robert Saisi's unique, and apparently very popular. Interpersonal Relations.

In this class, students are supposed to "find out" about themselves, and learn how and how not to deal with others. They are supposed to learn how to trust one another (emphasis on US), and how to determine "their own destiny."

A typical class session includes reading (aloud) personal letters from previous students to "Dr. Bob" — letters which contain such statements as "You have helped me see myself," and "You are the inspiration of my life." As each letter is read by a student, "Dr. Bob" walks around the room and touches each member of the class.

Today, a male member of the class has brought a "beautiful friend" (female) with him. The student introduces her to the class. "Dr. Bob" asks him if he has "grown enough" to hug her. The students says that he has, and the student hugs her.

Saisi talks about various topics. Sometimes, he asks questions which the students answer mentally. As he talks, he mentions only positive things about people. He tells the class that "To give is to find who we are."

Saisi repeatedly urges the students to visit him in his office and apparently many do. He tells us that one woman who graduated four years ago still writes him almost every week.

Today's session — number six — is devoted to the needs of individuals. Saisi passes out his personal list of nine needs. Among them are the need to be alone, the need to be accepted, and the need to be loved.

The students leave the classroom in pairs to walk around the campus and discuss one another's needs.

The students return to the classroom, and Saisi reads more letters and some poetry to the class. A poem by Saisi — "Me" — is also read. The students take another walk to discuss "Dr. Bob's" poem. The partners of the walk sit together for the remainder of the class, and Saisi tells them to close their eyes, hold hands, and silently transmit to each other thoughts of themselves.

The students then express their joy at having found a new friend by hugging each other; after which, "Dr. Bob" stands in the doorway to hug and/or kiss each student as the class files out past him.
Will WSC Faculty Strike? Vote To Be Held

For the past few weeks, news of a possible state college faculty strike has been in the air.

The story began on June 12, 1989, when the Board of Trustees of State Colleges and the Mass. State College Association/Mass. Teachers Association reached a tentative collective bargaining agreement after seven months of contract negotiations. The agreement calls for a 30 percent salary increase over the next three years. The MSCA/MTA voted to ratify the negotiated agreement on June 26, giving Governor Edward J. King 60 days from that date to approve or reject the agreement. If he did not take any action within the 60 days, the agreement would be returned to the parties for further negotiations.

However, on Sept. 24, MSCA leaders met with representatives of the Board of Trustees of State Colleges to resolve differences between the negotiated agreement and what would be acceptable to the State Office of Administration and Finance. After the 60 day period, Governor King neither rejected nor accepted the agreement.

As a result of the governor's inaction, the leadership of the MTA has decided to ask its membership for the authority to call for a system-wide strike. If the entire faculty of the state college system decides to authorize a strike, the final decision of whether or not to strike will be made by the MTA's executive committee on Nov. 1.

A strike would affect the faculty of the entire state college system directly, and could possibly draw the support of the staff. Its direct effect on students would be to send them — all 45,000 of them — home, until the contract is settled.

The vote is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 8, the day after the Owl goes to the printer.

Rocky Horror Cancelled

The sophomore class arranged last week to show the Rocky Horror Picture Show on Thursday, March 5, and Saturday, March 7 in Dever Auditorium. Because of the nature of the film, only certain items were allowed into the auditorium, including rice, squirt guns, newspapers, toast, flashlights, and toilet paper.

However, after the Thursday night performance, Dr. Warren Hill, Vice President of Student Services, sent a letter to students which explained his reason for cancelling the Saturday night performance. Dr. Hill wrote, "After consulting with members of the Sophomore Class, I have instructed the Sophomore Class to cancel the Rocky Horror Picture Show for Saturday evening, March 7, 1981. The decision is a result of the damage that occurred in Dever Auditorium during the Thursday evening, March 5, performance."

Refunds for tickets were given Saturday night in the Campus Center and Dever Auditorium to those students with tickets for the Saturday performance.

Dr. Hill Gets A New Position

Dr. Warren Hill was recently appointed Vice President of Student Services at WSC.

His new job entails receiving reports from the offices of student affairs, intercollegiate athletics, housing, health services and clubs, among others. Dr. Hill was also recently appointed as advisor to Student Senate.

One of Dr. Hill's main concerns is in having a policy for drinking on campus. He said, "Individuals on campus have drinking problems the college doesn't have an alcohol problem." He is presently working on setting up a Task Force to examine the drinking problem and would eventually like to establish alcohol awareness programs to aid students in that aspect.

Dr. Hill also stated that he would like to take a serious look at intercollegiate athletics and equality for women in athletics. He said that the support WSC gives athletics is insufficient and that "it concerns me that some teams don't have uniforms and that our budget is so small."

A former math professor, Dr. Hill misses teaching but says he is still involved with students in his new position and he's very happy about that.
Here We Go Again!

by Linda Kasparian

Deja vu. Haven't we seen this before? It seems like just yesterday that WSC students, along with students from the other nine state colleges, grew concerned over the possibility of a strike by faculty and librarians.

Last semester, tension grew as we all waited for Governor Edward King to sign the faculty contract calling for a 10 percent pay increase. After weeks of negotiating and re-negotiating, he finally signed it, and here we are again. Actually, there is no need for this scene to be repeated. The contract was signed and the pay raise was approved, so why hasn't the faculty received the money yet?

It's unfortunate that we, the students, have to suffer because of this. Professors are giving us extra work so that if there is a strike we'll have enough work to last awhile; work-to-rule began last week; everywhere you look, preparations are being made for a strike, and we get the brunt of them when it's the Senate that should be. However, we can't blame the faculty; they have families to support and bills to pay. Obviously, Senate doesn't realize that a strike would affect many, not just faculty and librarians. It's an unfortunate situation for everyone involved.

Think of the parents who might receive phone calls this weekend by sons and daughters saying, "Hi Mom and Dad. Can you come and pick me up?" Think of the problems a strike will cause for graduating seniors, summer jobs and travel plans.

And then of course, think of us, the students, who always seem to get the short end of the stick whenever talk of a strike comes up. We don't know whether we're coming or going (literally).

It's too bad that so many people will be hurt by a strike if there is one. I just wish there were a better way to solve the problem between the faculty union and the Senate, but if this is the only solution that will work, let's hope it all gets cleared up as quickly as possible before even more harm is done.

Letter About Strike Sent To Students

by Diane Casey

There are approximately 1.8 million wives beaten by their husbands each year. A battered woman can be of any race, religion, social class or age. Anyone can be the victim. This fact and others concerning battered women were discussed by Alida Merlo, Westfield State College Criminal Justice professor at a lecture on March 24, sponsored by the Women's Organization for Awareness.

According to Merlo, many cultural myths haunt women who have been beaten such as that they are masochistic. Another myth is that it is usually lower class women who are beaten more often. This is said because poor women are more likely to go to clinics for help. The richer women are afraid of their social status being damaged. A cultural myth about the man who beats women is that he is a psychopath, but men usually apologize after they beat a woman and psychopaths don't apologize for their faults.

Battered women are often not given sympathy because they don't leave the man who beats them. The women don't leave for many economically independent and live in fear. They have grown up to be dependent on men since they were children. Men, on the other hand, are taught to be strong and independent.

One reason why men are violent is because they were raised in an environment that was conducive to violence. They have a will to dominate. If the women argue better verbally then the men feel that they must dominate physically. Many times the problem doesn't arise until after marriage. Some men consider a their wives are their property and that they can do whatever they want with them.

According to Merlo, the media has added to the problem. Movies such as "Urban Cowboy," "Fort Apache, The Bronx," "Resurrection," and "Gone with the Wind," include scenes which women are beaten and dominated. Commercials depict women as children and helpless. Soap operas also contain violence against women.

Merlo said that the situation has "no simple solutions or simple explanations." Society must get many parents tell their children that the reason they hit them is because they love them, so a husband hits his wife because he loves her. Women must feel that they don't deserve to be beaten. A feeling of self worth must be predominant in order to combat the problem.

The situation of battered women is getting better. There are more shelters, better laws and more social service programs. Police departments and legislatures are becoming sensitized to the problem. The problem is improving but as Merlo said,
The Criminal Justice club has declared the trip to Philadelphia closed. Nine people have signed up, to go and the reservations have been made.

From March 11 to March 14 the members will be going to the site of the National Academy of Criminal Science's 1981 Convention.

The President of the C.J. club, Dave Lambert, stated that most of the people going on the trip are C.J. majors.

Besides the forthcoming trip, some of the activities of the club this year have been a trip to Newgate Prison, the Freshman Transfer Reception for C.J. majors, a P.C.P. speaker, a Christmas party and several films, including two rape movies, a prison movie and "The Godfather."

Lambert also indicated that on Tuesday, March 10, at 3:30, a speaker from the Earn It program are to the club in Ely 301. The Earn It program is a victim restitution program which provides a chance for the convict to pay or work for the wrong that he has committed. It is a very successful organization.

Meetings are held every other Tuesday at 3:30 in room 301, Ely. The faculty advisor is John Jones, who can be contacted at extension 309.

A First

by Wendy Wells and John Martins

WSKB-FM in Westfield has been broadcasting all of the home games of the WSC Baseball Owls and will continue to do so for the remainder of the season.

The broadcasting team for the Owls was originally composed of Bill Keegan and John Martins; however, the staff has expanded to include John Connely, Bruce Parker, Vinnie Vassalo, and Bob Ueker.

WSKB has received positive reviews towards this move, and little difficulty has been experienced. In the second game of the doubleheader against Salem State College, however, outfielder for the Owls Bob Payne walked by our location and crashed into a phone line responsible for keeping the game on the air, and ripped the line in two. The listeners then experienced a 20-minute delay.

This is the first time in the history of WSKB and Westfield State College that the baseball games have been broadcast on the airwaves. WSKB is open to comments and/or criticisms, and wishes to thank the many people who listen to the games on WSKB.
Mismanagement of
The Campus Center

by Diane Casey

Why should organizations such as dorms, classes and clubs have to suffer for the mismanagement of the Campus Center? The C.C. will not be getting much money into Spring Weekend because it spent the money in the budget unwisely. Now it is the students that will suffer.

Two concerts that bombed financially took a big chunk of money out of the budget. The Program Board made recommendations to the Campus Center Advisory Board. These ideas were obviously not the best. The bands that played were good but the scheduling was very poor. Both were on a week night and many students had tests.

The blame should not be placed on the members of the PB or the CCAB. It goes to the ultimate power of the C.C. which is the director, Daryl Hendery.

The PB makes recommendations to the CCAB who in turn makes recommendations to Hendery. It is Hendery who makes the final decision.

As it stands now, the classes, dorms and any other organization will have to spend money to have activities on Spring Weekend.

Spring Weekend is not the only function that will be affected. The PB recently asked Student Senate for $2,000 to sponsor a concert since their funds are low.

Money could have been taken out of the total that is reserved for the renovation of the inside of the C.C. but the CCAB decided against it.

The mis-management will lead to less functions - or at least those that cost a considerable amount of money. Other projects like racquetball tournaments and playing pool competitively will be offered. These activities are fine, but the student body deserves more. They paid their fee and now they are being cheated.

Hopefully, people responsible have learned their lesson so that this type of embarrassment won't happen again.

Spring Weekend
Up In Air

by Judy Uchman

Will there be a Spring Weekend in 1981?

At the Student Senate meeting on March 24, 1981, Robert Peznola, Davis Hall representative and chairman of the Save Spring Weekend Committee, announced that the committee was being dissolved due to lack of interest and support.

Spring Weekend is traditionally the last weekend before finals, and is celebrated by parties and outdoor concerts.

As a result of re-appropriation of weekend funds into Campus Center renovations, this year's weekend is not being funded by the Campus Center.

Laura Liberty, treasurer of Senate, tabled a request made by Peznola for $2,300 for concerts during the weekend until a possible re-allocation of class gift funds by the senior class could be discussed.

The senior class officers are slated to meet with Daryl Hendery, Director of the Campus Center, to discuss the matter.

"Although there is no longer a Spring Weekend Committee," said Peznola, "there will be two concerts on the nights of May 9 and 10, and a crafts fair on Saturday afternoon in place of the traditional concert."

Air Raid
Alarms Startle Westfield

by Linda Kasparian

First they tried to shut off their alarm clocks but found they wouldn't turn off. Then they thought it might be a fire alarm but realized it was too different and too loud to be that. Some even thought they might be dreaming. Sound familiar?

That was no dream; WSC students were awakened at 3:58 a.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 10 by the city's air raid alarm. And it wasn't just students who leaped out of bed to see if we were under enemy attack; city residents also wondered at the alarm.

Civil Defense Director Robert Gardner said some alarms sounded for more than one hour because officials couldn't figure out how to shut them off. The air raid alarms hadn't been tested for the last six years because of budget cuts; they used to be tested weekly.

And what caused the sudden shrieking of the alarms at that hour? According to a spokesman at the Westfield Police Station, "a malfunction in telephone lines caused the air raid alarm to ring." Whatever the cause may be, it was something that will remain in the memories of WSC students for years to come.
Casey Reflects

Gymnastics Ends

by Linda Gibbons

The WSC Women's Gymnastics Team ended its season on a sour note on Friday, February 27, with a double defeat against the University of Connecticut and Keene State.

UConn took first place with a score of 112.60; Keene was second with 110.65; and Westfield third with 97.40.

Top performers for the Owls were Judy Ziemski, with a 5.65 on the uneven bars; Beth Hawkins, scoring a 6.6 on the balance beam; Denise Tetro with a 7.25 in vaulting; and Linda Gibbons, with a 7.15 in the floor exercise.

Senior Kathy Serpis gave a remarkable performance by competing on the bars with a cast on her leg, scoring a 4.9.

The final defeat left the Owl women with a 7-6 record.

New England Champ
Bob D'Agnese

by John Martins
Sprinting Coach (and Assistant Coach)

Jim Peters is always bugging him about not going to another school and playing either football or basketball; he feels that he is the best athlete on campus.

Bob D'Agnese is a 6', 180 lb. junior from Swampscott. "D'Agga" has one major goal this spring, and that is to become an All-American.

Bob started running seriously in the 11th grade. That year he made it to the State High School Finals; and in his senior year he won the Class C finals.

After he graduated, Bob went to Bridgetown Academy, a prep school in Maine, solely for academic reasons. While there, Bob competed in the Maine Prep School Championships, where he won both the 220 and the 440.

Bob had offers from other schools, but he decided to come to Westfield. Bob admits that the track program at WSC was a "major factor" in his choice.

As a freshman, Bob was a National Competitor, and helped his team place 9th in the country in the sprint relay.

In his sophomore year, "D'Agga" set school records in the 600 meters and the 440(indoors). In the spring, he was the New England 400 meters champion of Division III, and was also a member of the All-New England Division I sprint relay team.

Recently, Bob became the New England Division III 500 meters champion.

It's difficult to say how much time Bob spends training each day, but he trains 12 months a year. "You have to be really dedicated to become an All-American," D'Agnese stated.

With his dedication and ability, Bob D'Agnese may very well achieve his goal.

Boxing Club Re-Activated

by Linda Kasparian

Boxing has recently been re-activated as a club at WSC. According to President Pilecki, at least six WSC students interested in boxing used facilities at Western New England College in Springfield because of a lack of boxing facilities at this college. Last semester supplies and equipment were ordered by Pilecki and were delivered this fall, when a boxing ring was set up at the Juniper Park gymnasium for practice.

Dr. Pilecki stated that the purpose of having a boxing club on campus is to "divert some of these young gentlemen from some of their questionable pasttimes," such as the use of alcohol and drugs. Since being set up, between 15 and 25 students have been practicing regularly at the ring. Pilecki has assured the college that there will be no competitive matches; however, according to Student Senate President Charlie Ruddy, if there is shown to be a great interest in the club and it does well, it can apply to the Athletic Council to become a team, and matches would be held.

Already six staff and faculty members have volunteered to train those students interested in boxing. Gloves and bags were delivered this fall, and a position was advertised in local newspapers for a trainer for the club.
Hockey Beats West Point

The WSC hockey team was victorious in their long-awaited game against West Point. WSC skated to a 5-4 win as Chris Cullen in goal stopped 38 shots. WSC had fewer shots on goal, (27), but made them count. Freshmen Brian MacNamara and Bruce Hurst scored the first two goals. Jeff Wojcik had two goals while Paul LeBlanc scored the remaining goal. Bobby Hess and Kenny Guittarr each had two assists.

In the Elmira Tournament, WSC lost to Elmira 5-3. Jeff Wojcik had two goals while Rick Williams had the other. Bobby Hess aided the team's effort with two assists. Chris Cullen made 29 saves. In the second game of the tournament against a strong Colgate team, the Owls were outplayed and lost 12-4. Paul LeBlanc, Mike MacInnis, Jeff Wojcik and Bobby Hess scored in the losing effort. Wojcik also had two assists. Tom Connors received a total of 43 shots on goal while WSC shot only 16 times on goal.

WSC got back to their winning ways against Union College. Dave Stefanelli and Jeff Wojcik each had two goals in the 8-4 victory. Bobby Heyner, Rick Williams, Kevin Salo and Mike MacInnis also scored. Chris Cullen was in goal and made 22 saves.

In the game against Fairfield, the Owls took the offensive and won handily by a score of 10-3. Freshman Bruce Hurst got a hat trick while Randy Parker, Paul LeBlanc and Anders Waldner each scored twice. Jeff Wojcik also added a single goal.

The Owls lost to Holy Cross on December 6th. The hockey team had a 3-1 lead after the first period but finally lost by a score of 8-5. John Barrett had two goals while Tim Murphy and Kevin Prowse each had one in the losing effort.

Randy Parker's two goal effort pushed WSC past their opponent, in the consolation game of the Holy Cross Tourney. Brian Cox also played a superb game tallying once. The final score, 6-1, WSC.

Baseball Team Is Going South

The WSC Owls baseball team began pre-season workouts on January 21st in preparations for their annual Spring Southern Trip. Thirty-three players are on the squad which will play 6 games also with area schools. The Owls have a 42 game regular season schedule and hope they get back into the NCAA Tournament they belonged to for six straight years before they got tripped up last year and missed the tournament by one game. Co-captains Rob DelBianco (Center Rutland, VT.) and John Veneziano (Medford) lead the squad. Assisting Coach Magarian this year is former two year captain Steve Perry (WSC Class of '78) from Bridgewater. Highlights of this season's trip will be games in Washington, D.C., and games with the University of Virginia, Virginia Tech. and Duke University. The Owls must have a successful trip to start the season high in rankings. A year ago Westfield State was ranked 4th in the Country in Baseball, before their slump season of '79-80. Coach Magarian says, "for many reasons this must be a good season". Practices at 6:30 A.M. most every morning will either make or break the team. Their first game in Washington is now less than a month away.

Outing Club Travels To N.H.

by Susan Byrne

Experienced canoers and novices are invited to join the Outing Club for a canoe trip down the Saco River in New Hampshire. The trip is tentatively scheduled for the weekend of April 24.

Canoers will travel approximately thirty-five miles the first day, camp at the AMC Campground, and travel fifteen miles the second day. Transportation will be provided from the ending point back to the cars.

Canoes will be supplied by Timbertrails Camp. Canoers may borrow tents and backpacks from the Outing Club.
Champs!

by John Martins

The stage was set last Friday, as Westfield State faced Boston State for the Mass. State conference Title at Owl Stadium. The home fans were not disappointed as the booters extended their unbeaten streak to an eye-opening 16-straight games with a 3-1 victory over Boston State. This puts the Owls in good shape and it is likely that the men will go on to the playoffs.

Before the contest, Coach Jim Fonte said "(I) feel very confident about the game", and he felt that his team was "well-prepared". Westfield proved their coach right as they totally dominated the contest.

In the first half, Fred Paulo, out of Chicopee, tallied first to get the Owl's off and flying and Sr. Tri-Captain, Hector Gomes scored to give Westfield a 2-0 lead at halftime. Westfield dominated this half in every aspect, and Boston State was quite fortunate that they escaped the half with only a 2-0 deficit.

Junior Captain, John Leahy put the frosting on the cake with a goal in the second half to put the Owls up by a score of 3-0. Earlier in the day, John attributed the team's success "to good coaching, a high level of motivation, and a good amount of talent".

Boston State finally got on the board with a late tally by Boston's George Jaeploe; accounting for the final score of 3-1.

So where do the Owls go now? Hopefully they will make it to the NCAA Division III Regional Playoffs. Westfield has a bright future in the soccer program, with a good amount of Freshmen talent playing in the program and getting well needed experience.

The Owl staff would like to congratulate the men for a banner season, and we wish them luck in the playoffs.

Hockey Team Awarded

by Laura Liberty

The Westfield State hockey team finished the 80-81 season with an overall record of 17-11-1. This record won the team a spot in the E.C.A.C. Division II playoffs for the third straight year. The team, seeded seventh in the west, traveled to Plattsburg, New York on February 28. However, Plattsburg, seeded second, proved to be too much for the Owls, who were defeated 9-5.

With graduation this year, the Owls will lose John Barrett, Paul "Lokey" LeBlanc, Kevin Prowse, Dave Stefanelli and Bob Heyner. Although losing these four-year veterans, the Owls should have a well-stocked team, even before the freshman of 1982 hit the ice. The 81-82 team will be led by Tri-Captains Chris Cullen, Brian Cox, and Tim Murphy.

One of the added extras this season was a chance for the hockey fans at WSC to participate in an appreciation night for the team. This took place on February 25, and this season's awards went to Chris Cullen (MVP), Freshman Mike Crowley (the most improved player, player) and Dave Stefanelli, who received the Coach's Award for his contributions to the team on and off the ice.

Admittance Cards No Longer Being Used

by Linda Mesarvey

Do you remember what a struggle it was to hold onto course admittance cards long enough to submit them to the appropriate professor? Those computer admittance cards are no longer being used.

According to Dean Hagan, the faculty wasn’t passing the cards in to the registrar’s office. Since the start of this semester, a new system has been in force.

The new system calls for the registrar’s office to receive a list of all students in each class. Their names are run through a computer and compiled on a sheet for each particular course. The sheet is given to the faculty member at the start of the semester.

Within the first two weeks of every semester, there are approximately 2,600 instances of students dropping or adding a course to their schedules. In order to maintain a permanent record of the students in a particular class, all faculty members will receive class lists four times during a semester.

Dean Hagan hopes that the new admittance system will help teachers keep an accurate class list without the problem of lost computer cards.

Intramural Notes

by John Martins

The 1981 Street Hockey League has just begun with 20 Men's teams and 17 Women's teams competing. Off to a quick lead in the Men's Eastern Division are the Hermaphrodites and Bad II. In the Men's Western Division, Bad and the Headers are tied for the number one slot.

In the Women's Eastern Division, RLD leads, while in the West, the Bonkers and Madness clubs are tied.

The 1981 Foul Shooting competition has been completed, and Greg Jodry was the overall winner. Greg hit 43 out of 50 shots in the final set.

The 1981 Basketball One on One Champion is Peter Hite, Peter captured the title when he defeated Jim Buckley in the final round.

Intramural Softball rosters are due today and games will begin on Monday, April 6th. Also, rosters for Intramural Indoor/Outdoor Soccer must be submitted by next Thursday, April 9th and the games begin on Monday the 13th.
Swim Club Organized
by Judy Pilecki & Karen McCormack
The Westfield State College Swim Club has been organized and is actively looking for new members. Membership is co-educational and is open to anyone in the student body.

During practice hours, (2:30-4:00 daily) Coach David Laing helps improve the swimming or diving skills of the individuals in order to strengthen their performances in the swim meets. For those who wish to learn new techniques, the opportunity is available at these practices.

Two exciting meets against Mt. Holyoke and UMass have already been held. These meets provided the experience of visiting other schools, meeting their students, and the excitement of competition. A good time was had by all.

The Student Senate has just voted and approved a budget for the club which will enable the club to have meets at home as well as an away meet at Bridgewater on February 19.

Attendance is not mandatory for this club, and anyone interested is welcome at any of the practices.

Equestrians Get Funded
by Gabrielle Caggiano
The Westfield State Equestrian Club has been offering weekly jumping lessons.

The lessons are given at Heritage Farms in Easthampton by Mrs. Eileen Rauscher and her three sons.

The club has been riding at Heritage Farms for the past eight weeks. Lessons cost $5 an hour on the flat and $8 an hour for jumping.

The new jumping students are Gabrielle Caggiano, Susan MacNamara, Lisa Pienunas, and Robin Scanlon.

"These girls have a lot of potential and really enjoy the new challenge which jumping creates. It is a very dangerous activity but we are confident that our riders know what they are doing. We hope to begin show jumping next semester," remarked club president Lauren Rooney.

Recently, the Westfield State College Equestrian Club was granted $1868.35 for next year's expenses.

This year the club requested $3000 and received only $300. The money was to be spent on transportation and cutting a percentage of the lesson costs which the riders had to pay.

The money allotted for next year's season will be used not only for transportation but entry fees at the horseshows, lessons, and possibly extra safety equipment.

WSC Clubs Ranked High
by John Martins
Westfield State College teams are finally getting the recognition and reward they deserve, and this can be shown in the rankings of many of their teams.

The WSC Lacrosse Team is currently ranked 15th in New England, and is riding the crest of a 4-1 season. The only loss that the Owls received was at the hands of Babson College by a score of 10-9. WSC should have come away with the victory, however, a last minute surge by Babson took the victory away from the Owls. The Lacrosse Team starts a homestand on April 18th; it will run until May 30th. A team in only its fourth or fifth varsity season has much to be proud of in its 15th ranking.

WSC's Men's Volleyball Team made it into a post-season tournament, and compiled a phenomenal record. Results of this tournament will be posted in the next issue of the Owl.

The WSC Baseball Owls are ranked second in Division III Baseball at the present time: they started the season ranked 8th, and in less than two weeks they have impressed everyone in New England with an overall 9-1 mark.

We at the Owl honor all of the competitors in the WSC sports programs. This is the year for sports excellence on the campus of Westfield State College.
Seniors Honored At Convocation

Ninety-nine graduating seniors at Westfield State College were honored at the Senior Convocation held Wednesday, April 22, in Dever Auditorium. Part of a graduating class of 600 students, these seniors were the recipients of various academic awards presented to outstanding students by their departmental chairman or by the 1981 class officers.

Those students receiving Academic Excellence Awards, in recognition of the attainment of academic excellence in their undergraduate major, were, in the Art Department: Liann Alves and Kimberly Brennan; in Biology: Deborah J. Avalone, Brian J. Carroll, Leonard D. Holmes, and Laura J. Lafleur; in Economics/Business Administration: Mary Fandel; in Criminal Justice: Julie M. Duggan, David E. Lambert, and Nancy M. Szablinski; in the English Department: Robert Bourdon and Judith Uchman; in Mathematics and Computer Science: Robert F. King and Karin Temple; in Media Studies: Judith Sheehan; in Political Science: Cynthia D. Hainsworth and Raymond Towle; in Psychology Department: Ellen Courtney and Bonnie Allen; in Social Science: Roger Goodsell, Joan Foster, Mary Ginley, and Lynne Kelly; and in the History Department: Margaret Phaneuf and Mary Lewis.

The Class of 1981 and its officers presented both the Wisdom and Merit Awards and the Senior Appreciation Awards to classmates chosen not only for outstanding academic records but also for class involvement. Receiving Wisdom and Merit Awards were Peter Concannon, Joanne Piazza, Nancy Eames, Nancy Szablinski, and Linda Littlefield.

Senior Appreciation Awards were given to Class President Karen Lindsay, Mary Sullivan, Judy Sheehan, Gayle Bartholemew, Susan Buma, Margaret Finn, Maria O'Brien, Scott O'Brien, Margaret O'Malley, Judith Sharland, Linda Tkowski, Christine Walsh, Cathleen Walsh, Virginia Ricci, Mary Julian, Judith Aldrich, Timothy Tierney, Karen Rocbon, Joann Quinn, and Karen Fillebrown.

Recipients of Senior Scholarships, awarded by the College's Scholarship Committee, were: Paula Beauregard and Kristine Lanser.

Convocation Absenteeism

Convocation, 1981 — a day for graduating seniors to be honored. The presence of faculty at this event makes for a special day.

Unaccountably, some faculty members didn’t bother to show up at Convocation. This is not only an act of disrespect towards the senior class, but also a demonstration of disregard for the new faculty contract. Page 201 of the agreement states that faculty members have the obligation “to attend such College functions as faculty meetings and convocations.”

Perhaps the absent faculty members should take some time to read their contract. Also, it’s about time that the administration took suitable action against these faculty members. There’s no integrity in a contract which neither the administration enforces or certain faculty live up to.

To those faculty members who did come to Convocation: thank you, your presence was appreciated by the senior class. To those faculty members who didn’t show up: thanks for nothing; your absence demonstrates a lack of class.

Here At Last Pinball Major

by Hyam A. Hypocrite

As of next semester, WSC will have a new major — pinball. Andrew Johnson, Assistant Director of the Campus Center, will be the chairperson of the new Pinball Department and he thinks that the Pinball Major will attract many students.

“Since many students play the pinball and video games in the Campus Center, they’ll want to be Pinball Majors,” stated Johnson. He added, “I’m happy to be the chairperson of the Pinball Department because I’ll know that the students in this major are diehard pinball fanatics and will be enthusiastic about their homework.”

During the upcoming summer months, a contest will be held to determine who will be the new faculty members of the Pinball Department. The first five people to score 100,000 points or more on the video game Asteroids will become the college’s first pinball professors.

Some of the courses which are scheduled to be taught by the department include Flippers 101 and Bumpers 102.

Internships for Pinball majors will be held at Just For Fun, one of the arcades at the Ingleside Mall in Holyoke, Massachusetts.

Students who want to be admitted into the new major should see Johnson in his office in the Campus Center at the start of next semester.

One anonymous student who wishes to be a Pinball major remarked, “Since I spend more money on pinball than on tuition per semester, I’d like to put my money where my major is.”

One of the questions surrounding the new major is whether it will take students away from the college’s other majors. When asked this question, Johnson replied, “Let’s just say that the Campus Center will have more students in it than the other buildings.”

Bumstead’s Ways For Fun Failing

by Bob Hrycay

(Resubmitted on demand of the public)

Hi, my name is Ralph Bumstead and I’m a student at WSC. My cum. is 0.26. My major is inebriation. My specialty is guzzling beer until my liver explodes. I party a lot. I almost never go to classes. But I have fun. And that’s the name of the game in college — to have fun. My motto is, “You only go around once in life — so have fun.” I have so much fun that I’ve been kicked out of eight colleges so far. My folks always understand. They have to. I didn’t ask to be born, you know.

Failing classes is fun. Tests are fun to fail. Here are some sure-fire ways to fail and have fun at the same time.

1. Go to class naked on test day. Say to the professor that you were concentrating so hard on doing well on the test that you forgot to dress. A great way to break everyone up.

2. Show up drunk. Belch a lot. Drum some brew on the professor’s head. Pretend to barf in the waste basket. Be gross.

3. Puncture the tires on your professor’s car. Spray-paint the word “jerk” on the windshield. Show up to class carrying the professor’s hubcaps. Spray-paint the professor’s nose when he walks in.

4. Show up to class with your pet rattlesnake. Let it loose and say “kill” while pointing at the professor. Offer to pay $10 of the professor’s emergency medical treatment for snakebite.

5. Show up on test day dressed as Santa Claus. Say “Ho, ho, ho!” while reading the questions. Start throwing confetti. Play your harmonica. Sing Christmas songs. Distribute naked photos of yourself to your classmates.

These are only a few ways to fail and have fun. I can’t write anymore because I’ve just been kicked out of school. But by golly I had fun here!

From: The Class of 1981

Never shall we forget the days which we spent with you . . .
Continue to be our friend, as you will always find us yours.

— Ludwig van Beethoven
"You will not be sheltered in college
You will face every risk that you have Already faced and you will face every Risk that awaits you through the remainder
Of you life. You will not be sheltered from
The threat of failure, nor from moral decay,
Grief, lonliness, sickness of heart, unrequitted
Love, nor the consequences of a love too
Hot to handle. I know of some colleges
Where students are not even properly
Sheltered from the weather. Let us Forget the shelter of Ivy halls, it is
A lie, it does not exist.

As for entering the mainstream of life,
Where are you now? Will you ever again Live more than you have lived during the past four years? You are up to your ears in life and never will you
Love more, and hate more, cry more,
And laugh more than the years you
Are in college. You will know despair
And hope, lonliness and friendship,
And bone-crushing fatigue and gaiety and Exhaustations — all the fruits of living,
Sweet and bitter. I cannot think of Anything you will be spared of and I
Would not have it otherwise, you are Right now in the mainstream of Life. Keep
On, live every minute."

I want to live
I want to grow
I want to see
I want to know
I want to share what I can give
I want to be
I want to live.

— John Denver

Looking back to the past and planning for the future, my thoughts have often reverted to you in friendship and affection, and to the happy hours spent with you.

— Felix Mendelssohn

It was the best of times,
It was the worst of times
It was the age of wisdom,
It was the age of foolishness
It was the epoch of belief,
It was the epoch of incredulity
It was the season of light,
it was the season of darkness
It was the spring of hope,
It was the winter of despair
We had everything before us,
We had nothing before us.

— Charles Dickens

There have been a lot of garbage yearbooks turned out each year and there’s nothing really wrong with garbage; flies dig it and many a good man has lead an honorable career at the toting of said refuge. But the only reason a book is garbage is because the staff has not made an emotional commitment to the project. All that’s needed is a little determination and a couple of ideas to act as a foundation and everything snaps into place. Hopefully this year’s yearbook is not garbage. I would like to thank the following people for their time and effort in making this yearbook one of the best yearbook to come out of W.S.C.
